Team Hoyt – A symbol of hope and possibility

Sunday, March 31, 2013

Most runners know this story, but I think it is an appropriate message on this Easter Sunday

“Love in Action: Dad, 72, races in nearly 1100 events with disabled son” todaynews.today.com/news/2013/03/29/17504304-love-in-action-dad-72-races-in-nearly-1100-events-with-disabled-son

I saw them race at the Boston Marathon in 2000. I was there as a spectator cheering for my daughter. It was an incredibly moving experience to see them in person.

Now they are being honored with a life size bronze statue at the start of this year’s event. They have become a source of inspiration to all.

Truly inspirational. We have our own version, "Mick and Phil", here in the UK to cheer on. These dads are true heroes.

What an inspiring story! Too many of the severely disabled kids are just "put away" for the rest of their life. What a great dad to not only raise him, but to make him thrive! Wow!! Thanks for sharing.
